Financial Policy

Full payment is due at time of service. Pay your provider directly upon completion of your session. For your convenience you may provide us with a credit card number to keep on file. Session fees will be automatically posted the next day.

Choices are contracted with many insurance company plans. If you have insurance, we will submit claims for you and require only your copay at time of service. The balance, if any, will be due upon receipt of your explanation of benefits from your insurance company statement.

Clients are responsible for giving full and correct insurance information at their first visit and immediately thereafter whenever insurance information changes. Policy benefits vary greatly within the insurance networks. Clients are responsible to become familiar with their plan and its parameters. If authorizations are required, and the client has not arranged for them or notified the provider, the services might not be covered and the entire fee might be required from the client. Call your insurance company before beginning a treatment plan with a new provider.

We work with clients that work with us in a timely manner.
